The One Dollar per square of Ten lines or less. first Sunday School was opened under his auspices, in Gloucester, in 1781.

In regard to the introduction of Sanday Schools into the United States, authorities differ. We find in Chamber's Encyclopedia that it was not until 1816 that a Sunday School was commenced in New York by the Methodist Dr. McAnally, of St. Louis.

correcting this in 1857, says, "I have in my possession satisfactory evidence of their existence and usefulness at free-tributes of respect and obituaries least in 1786." He refers, among others, to a school taught in a house belonging to Mr. Thomas Crenshaw, of LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE AND Hanover county, Va., at that time. He says this school "was unanimously attended, and characterized by the conversion of a great number of children of youth. Among these con-verts a young man named John Charleston, who subsequently became a local preacher in the Methodist church, and in 1835 he was still alive to bear testimony to the existence and success of he regularly organized Sunday School at Creashaws's in 1786, together with divers other schools within the circle

From the Secretary we learned that this school consists of 6 officers, 24 teachers, 200 scholars-making a total showed that 6 officers, 22 teachers and $333 45. 143 pupils were present.

The officers and teachers are untiring in their efforts, and the children are orderly and evince a determination to spend the hour devoted to school in an acceptable and profitable manner. One great need, however, is more teachers, and we sincerely trust that out of this community, where such timber is so abundant, they may be
